Liverpool Reports Opened the Wheat Market at an Advance, but Weakness of Cash Grain in Northwest Turned the Tide. CHICAGO, Oct. 15.-With the demand for flour subsiding and a reappearance of the weakness in cash grain in the Northwest there was a disposition in the wheat pit to-day to act cautiously on the buying side, and prices were allowed to sag. After an advance at the opening, December closed 36c lower. Corn started unchanged at %c lower. Oats declined 14c. Pork is un-changed to 21th down; lard, 21th higher, and ribs unchanged.

Before the opening reports were received from Liverpool that the market there had recovered all that it lost yesterday. The news had an appreciable effect on the early trading here, first sales being at an advance over night of 14674c. Though New York continued to send reports of large export engagements, the news had much less influence than usual, the prevailing opinion being that reports of previous days this week were very much exaggerated this week were very much exaggerated, and that the advices to-day might be duplicates. One unfavorable feature of the market, and one which had a great deal of influence in shaping the course of prices was the weakness of the cash grain in the Northwest and reports from Minneapolls of a pause in the demand for flour. The primary market receipts for the day were 1.53,000 bushels, against 1.203,000 a year ago. 1,562,000 bushels, against 1,208,000 a year ago. Calcago received 2.0 cars, against 133 cars last year, and Minneapolis and Duluth 1,122, as compared with 1,112 a week ago, and 1,176 the corresponding day the year before. The responding day the year before. The respondence of the average agreements of the agreement o sponding day the year before. The reports of the export engagements at the scaboard finally ran up to 108 boatloads. This was entirely ignored, however, and the market continued to weaken during the last half hour, influenced by lack of speculative demand and free liquidating by discouraged longs. December opened 4c higher, at 654,665%c, ranged tregularly downward to 60%c, and closed at 654,666%c. A sharp upturn at Liverpool caused core. downward to 641c, and closed at 642-664c. A sharp upturn at Liverpool caused cornearly to sell at the highest price touched on the present rise. Commission houses executed a fair number of buying orders but the demand proved insufficient to hold the market, there being considerable long property for sale, and one or two prominent elevator interests selling quite freely. Receipts were 522 cars. December began 1262 higher, at 312-321c. There was quite a lively trade for the 30%c, and closed at 30%GMc.

There was quite a lively trade for the first hour in oats, and the market ruled strong at advanced values. Later, however, almost everybody had something to sell and prices started on the downward path and finally ended up at the bottom figure for the day. May started &c higher at 234c; sold up to 23%c; then fell to 23%c, the closing figure.

An advance of 5c in hogs at the yards, more assuring news regarding the yellow fever situation in the South, were the strengthening influences in provisions at the opening. The weakness in grains, however, and free sales by brokers and commission firms caused a substantial reaction later. January pork opened 75,576c up, at 35.00; declined to $5.175, and closed at $5.00. January lard started 56,775c higher, at $5.075; weakened to $5.025, and closed at $5.05. January ribs began 56,775c up, at $5.904,8225; held steady at $4.825; then off to $5.85, and rallied to $4.775 at the close.

"There is the same situation in flavened this season as there is in wheat." says Charles Dickson, of Chicago. "Russia appears to have no seed to spare: Arzentine has shipped its surplus: America has the only supply, except a little contributed by India. It is idle to guess how much this country will export this season. Contracts for over 2,000,000 basels have been elesed already. The future business depends on freight rates and prices. New York, Oct. 15.—There was little change in the character of the stock market to-day, the erratic tendency of the leading industrial specialties keeping the general list greatly unsettled. The opening decline was general and was reflected from abroad. Both Tobacco and Sugar were down at the opening, but Sugar reached the point of resistance and encountered large buying orders, which put the bears all at sea again. They covered quite freely and ran the price up to 112. The urgent demand then stopped for the day, but the price was held above last night's close. Too coo dropped off 23 points to 1143, and closed at about the lowest. The continued disposition of Northern Pacific to sag also checked upward tyndency and discouraged activity in the railroad list. There was a conspicuous movement in the last dealings in Louisville & Nashville and Southern preferred. The trade attributed this to the prospects of relief from the yeilow lever by the coming of cold weather, but in the case of Southern Hallway there were reports of an approaching dividend declaration. The picking up of high grade dividend atocks in small late was a consumed healthful feature of the market. A feature in the dealings in the outside market was the new federal stoel company securities, which are to be listed on the stock exchange Monday. The stock market enjoyed a brief upward reaction toward the middle of the week owing to recovery in the group of stocks which has exercised an unsettling influence for some time gast. But a recurrence of weakness in the stocks has led to surmises whether their recovery was not due simply to the closing out of a bear apeculation, leaving them for the future without even the sustaining force of a large outstanding short interest. The advance in the group of stocks which has exercised an unsettling influence for some time gast. But a recurrence of weakness in the stocks has led to surmises whether their recovery was not due simply to the closing out of a bear appeculation, leaving them for the as the natural order of things in Wall street that there shall be a period of duliness and reaction preceding a congressional or presidential election. There is feit to be room for some unessiness also over the foreign political situation—the domestic unrest in France, the Angio-French relations, the conflict of interests which may be precipitated by the extraordinary events in China and the money stringency in Berlin.

Dry Goods,

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The market during the week has shown only slight variations. Locally, trading has continued light all the week in both cotton and woolen lines. Export goods have shown great weakness, bids for sheetings and drills for the far East being far helow the standard set by self-ers. The market for woolen goods of all descriptions has continued dull. There is beginning to be some interest manifested in new lines. Reorders have been light. The print cleth market has been carefully watched by cotton goods men this week. The new plan for curtailment and the pooling of stock has not vet gone into effect, but is thought to be a certainty.

THE WORLD'S WHEAT CROP. Estimates Furnished the Agricultural Department at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The following is a summary of the agricultural department's report of agriculture in foreign countries for October:

The Hungarian ministry of agriculture and the several commercial authorities have issued their estimates of the world's wheat crops of 1935. The Beerbohm estimate is equivalent to 2,649,000,000 bushein of siaty pounds, in the grand total varying but little from the Hungarian official estimate. The wheat crop of India for 1885, as officially reported, amounted to 242,271,780 bushels, that of 1897 to 182,667,831 bushels, while the annual average for the previous five years was 226,446,830 bushels. Official figures on area show an increase of 693,172 acres in France, of 218,686 acres in the United Kingdom, 183,860 in Ontario, Cam., and 147,250 in Manitoba under wheat. The estimates of production given in tables published with the report make the crop of 1888 the largest on record, but the world's reserve stocks had run extremely low before harvest.

The French area under wheat was about 414 per cent greater in 1898, and, taking wheat, rye and maize together, the area increase amounted to 732,179 acres. The average yield of wheat this year was nearly 27 bushels per acre, against less than 15.2 in 1897.

An official estimate for Hungary puts the wheat WASHINGTON, Oct 15,-The following is a sum-

An official estimate for Hungary puts the wheat rop at 119,638,000 bushels, against 89,924,000 last rear; ryc. 38,154,000 bushels, against 35,151,000 last rear; barley, 61,446,000 bushels, against 41,475,000 ast year; oats, 84,041,000 bushels, against 58,881,000 ast year; oats, 84,041,000 bushels, against 58,881,000 ast year.

The wheat crop of Roumania has been stated in Enclish papers, on the authority of an official estimate, 55,800,000 bushels, but the reports from that country represent that this estimate is too large by several million bushels. The offers of wheat from Roumania and Buigaria are described as "rather extraordinarity restricted."

several million bushels. The offers of wheat from Roumanh and Bolgaria are described as "rather extraordinarily restricted."

The preliminary official estimate as to the Prussian rye crop is said to state it at 256,000,000 bushels, against 225,200,000 bushels last year. The German potatio crop was reported in the middle of September as a full average.

In Austria-Hungary the crops of wheat, rye and oats are reported as very satisfactory. Barley is merely average in quantity and dedicant in quality, while mairs, on the whole, is not a good crop.

Reports from Russia are quite conflicting. Supplies of new wheat for export come forward very sparingly, and considerable quantities of grain are said to be moving toward the provinces which unfered so severely through the failure of the crops last year.

At the beginning of September the crops in Argentine were reported to be in fine conflition, but about three weeks later they were represented as suffering for want of rain and threatened by locusts.

Accounts from Australia represent the crop outlook there as excellent.

The sowing of the fall grain crops in Europe has been delayed by drouth in a number of counties. Complaint on this score has been quite serious and widespread.

GOOD CROP NEWS FROM OLD PLATTE COUNTY.

Encouraging Reports of the Condition of Affairs in Russell County, Kas., Brought in by J. F. Mansfield.

"Platte county has abundant crops," say Elliott and L. M. Morrow, who were at the yards from there yesterday. They re-port corn and plenty of roughness and a good many young hogs in the country. fet feeders are holding back, and it is thought that fewer cattle will be fed there his winter than last year, as the past season was an unprofitable one, and farmers are timid.

"We in Russell county have plenty of rough feed, and grass is good," said J. F. Mansfield, of Lucas, Kas., who was a visitor at the yards yesterday. "Hogs are plenty, but corn is short, only 25 per cent of a crop; and an feeders made little money last season, farmers are slow in billing up their feed lots."

cars.

"L. Goodman, of Laredo, has sold his 3 and 4-year-old Mexican steers, which were taken to the Territory last spring, to Light & Gamel, of Chickasha, I. T., at $22 for 2.00 head, $20 for 200 head and $18 for 250 head, immediate delivery. The trade recently reported on these cattle with G. D. Sleeper, of Waggoner, was declared off."

The receipts of cattle and calves in the quarantine division the past week were 11.550 cattle and $41 calves. The same week last year, 11,138 cattle and 1,530 calves.

VANDERBILT AT BILTMORE.

Reception Given Him and His Bride Upon Their Arrival at His Southern Home. George W. Vanderbilt brought to his palatial home in Carolina its new mistress, his bride. Preparations for this home coming were being made all week before and every train that passed through Asheville brought rich additions to the already gor-geous furnishings of Biltmore.

When it was known in Asheville that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt would arrive on their private car, Swannanoa, a large crowd col-lected at the depot and gave them an en-end Mrs. Vanderbilt would arrive on their private car, Swannanoa, a large crowd collected at the depot and gave them an enthusiastic greeting as they entered a victoria and started for Bitmore.

The Asheville Gazette says, concerning their reception within the grounds:

"The roads were as smooth as glass and the strawberry bed had been primed and trimmed into perfect symmetry. The estate was spick and span throughout. Nothing unusual occurred as Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt drove along until they reached the road that leads to the mansion. Here they were confronted by a big horse shoe of flowers arching the road. On either side of the road were lined the employes of the estate. Each department had a symbol. The dairymen stood beside some of the finest cows, the gardners held vegetable stalks, the foresters had twigs and green ribbon on the lapels of their coats, while the florists tossed roses, carnations and azaleas before the carriage.

"A big cheer went up as master and mistress of Biltmore passed. Mr. Vanderbilt doffed his hat and smiled. Both bowed frequently in response to the ovation.

"From the archway to the mansion the carriage passed over a road that was carpeted with bridal roses. As the victoria swung gracefully to the portal of the house servants lined themselves up in the hallway, stiff and stolid-eyed in new liveries." At night the employees of the estate participated in a torchlight procession and the Biltmore band played throughout the evening, while brilliant fireworks illuminated the grounds and bonfires lighted up the hills around the mansion.

Concerning the appearance of the bride on her arrival an Asheville paper says:

"Some two inches talier than Mr. Vanderbilt, she has a fine form and carriage. Sho was attred in a pearl gray traveling gown of simple design and wore an English walking hat of the same color. About her neck was a feather collarette. Her dark brown hair was waved and dressed rather high. Her features are aristocratic, though her face is full. Her cheeks wore a fine brown tan,

Advice on Emigrating.

Advice on Emigrating.

From the Mexican Herald.

"Cheap excursions to Havana" are already advertised in Northern cities. Doubtless many sightseers will flock there when cooler weather comes, and also the usual horde of the restless and adventurous, who are to be found wherever land is open up for settlement, or when there is a rush for gold to Alaska or elsewhere. The exodus to Honolulu, in anticipation of the annexation of Hawaii, proved a harvest time for the steamship people, and it was inevitable that the majority should now be just as desirous of returning home. Honolulu was already surfeited with professional men: it has lawyers enough for a whole kingdom; dentist sufficient to pull all the teeth of the entire population of the South Sea islands, doctors enough to attend to the needs of the sick people of a second London. All this should have been thought of, but the same class of men who are always writing to people in Mexico, asking for information as to the chances for business here, and who are precisely of the profe slons in which there is no lack of practitioners, seem to be living on the ragged edge of starvation and how they get the money to move about the planet is a mystery. Perhaps they borrow it of long suffering friends. No warnings will avail; they will rush "on to Havana," and to Sen Juan or Porto Rico, with the same headlessness of business conditions in those cities. It is evident that, in the professions the United States is overstocked. Men who can manage a farm or an orchard, who can manage a farm or an orchard who can manage a farm or an orchard, who can do something of value with their hands, are not making up the crowes to would-be emigrated Mexico, it is not a kindness to advise professional men to come here. The best counsel that can be given to them is to turn cultivators of the soil.
